March 31: Webinar - Business Interruption Coverage for the Coronavirus

Presented by Farella Braun + Martel

The coronavirus (COVID-19) has disrupted the economy and caused significant losses for businesses large and small. Commercial property insurance policies typically include business interruption coverage. It is critical that every company assess this coverage and pursue claims where appropriate. Key issues include:

- When does a “shelter-in-place” order trigger your business interruption coverage?
- What coverage is available when a business closes a location because an employee or customer is diagnosed with COVID-19?
- What coverage is available when one of your suppliers—or other links in your supply chain—shut down?

SVVGA encourages members to register to attend this valuable webinar presented our partners at Farella Braun + Martel. Click here for more information.
