ADx Healthcare is owned by Northwest Laboratory, a CAP-accredited/ CLIA-certified laboratory and where all testing is completed.

We offer the FDA-approved active-virus PCR COVID-19 test, considered the "gold standard" test for detecting active virus and informing quarantine guidelines.

Northwest Laboratory is validated for both nasopharyngeal and lower nasal swab. ADx Healthcare uses the lower nasal swab for increased comfort. Test samples are obtained either by a trained Medical Assistant or by the patient as a 'supervised self-swab' to ensure appropriate technique.
